Concert Band Its Performance

The fall concert of the Brigham Young University Concert Band will be presented Dec. 1 at 8 p.m. in Joseph Smith Auditorium and will feature much classic and contemporary music.

The program the band will present is "Echo-Song" by Dr. Lasso, six dances of the "Cap-Suite," originally for the orchestra by Warlock-Beecher, and Beethoven's "Overture for the Ninth."

The final numbers will be "The Ninth" and "Introduction to the Ninth," by Beethoven, and "County Overture" by Jensen.

Shakespeare Play 'King Lear' Will Begin at Y December 7

In the traditional Shakespearean theatre erected on the Joseph Smith Auditorium stage, the second drama of the season, "King Lear," will be presented to the public by the Brigham Young University Speech and Drama Dept. beginning Dec. 7.

The play has been called one of Shakespeare's greatest dramas, a tragedy of profound insight. It is said to contain a timelessness in its message that will appeal to everyone.

Dr. Lael J. Woodbury, director of the play, has tried to create a feeling of masculinity and virility in costuming and atmosphere throughout the drama. He stated, "King Lear" has greater appeal than most of the Shakespearean plays in that it is easy to follow in its simple plot and in that it is easy to follow in its simple plot.

Harold I. Hansen, director of the BYU Speech Dept., will carry the lead in the play.

Costuming is directed by Carol Michie; lighting by Charles Hanson. Bookholder is Millie Waldvogel.

Students desiring tickets may call at the ticket office in the Joseph Smith Bldg.; faculty members can reserve seats by calling ext. 212.

The play will run through Dec. 10.

Annex Serves Marrieds Provo City Council Sees Housing Plan

An ordinance for the annexation of 20 acres to the city limits of Provo for the construction of six married students housing projects was requested in the Provo City Council meeting Monday by Brigham Young University representatives.

The ordinance was passed on first reading. The second reading and a public hearing must be held no earlier than two weeks from the date of the passage of the first reading.

Housing plans and a scale model showing the proposed position of the buildings were presented for the council's information and consideration.

The land which was suggested for the development lies along Ninth East and is bordered by the Oak Hills State House on the city limits and Timpanogas Canal. Annexation of the property would provide access to city utilities.

Room for approximately 462 families would be provided for by the new housing project, informed sources said Tuesday.

Existing married student housing in Wymount Village is being torn down to facilitate future campus development. Wymount Village must be replaced within a few years due to an agreement with the city of Provo.

UN Officials Miss Funeral Of Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, Nov. 23 (UPI)—United Nations officials were conspicuously absent today from the funeral of Lt. Col. Joseph Mobutu and three other Congolese soldiers who were killed Monday night in a clash with Tunisian troops of the U.N. force.

It was learned that Congolese Army Chief of Staff Col. Joseph Mobutu, who was present at the funeral, pointedly had advised the U.N. command that the presence of any of its members would be "unwise."

More than 150,000 persons lined the route of the cortege through the city.

SERVICES FOR the dead men, designated a "national funeral" by Mobutu, were held at the African Protestant church in the African quarter.

There were no incidents. But as the cortege wound its way through the streets, townspeople who were shouting from sullen Congolese bystanders of "down with the U.N.O." and "U.N. go home."

Non-Travelers To Have Busy Schedule

A full schedule of activities has been planned to keep students remaining on campus during the Thanksgiving holidays busy and happy.

Friday, a basketball game, frosh vs. varsity will be held in Smith Fieldhouse. The game starts at 7:30 p.m. and students will be admitted with activity cards. The charge to the public will be $1.

CANNON CENTER will be open Friday, Saturday and Sunday at regular times and prices: breakfast, 50 cents; lunch 70 cents; dinner 90 cents and Sunday dinner $1.25. Thanksgiving dinner will be $1.25.

The J. S. Cafeteria will serve lunch only on Friday, and the snack bar will be open only on Friday.

THE GOBBLE HOP will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the fieldhouse, Saturday. The dress will be casual and the Y's Men will furnish the music. While there will be no charge donations are encouraged for the Associated Men Students sponsored Christmas benefit drive.

The regular campus movie, "Calamity Jane" this week, will be shown at regular times.

Kasavubu Wins UN Seat, Peace Try Underway

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — Nov. 23 (UPI)—President Joseph Kasavubu moved today to solidify his United Nations seat by over the Leftist forces in the Congo and try to restore to his crisis-shaken nation.

He was expected to meet with General Dag Hammarskjöld today.

WESTERN DIPLOMATS decried at the vote yesterday gave Kasavubu a delegate to the Congo's seat in the General Assembly, predicted the United Nations would agree to a 15-nation Conciliation mission go to Leopoldville.

The Commission would be sent among warring Congolese political factions.

KASAVUBU had resisted the commission while the Assembly was debating whether to give the Congo's seat to him or to a delegation appointed by Patrice Lumumba, the pro-Soviet premier he deposed. Now, with formal U.N. recognition, Kasavubu was the undisputed top man with whom the commission would have to deal.

The Assembly, riding roughshod over the objections of the Soviet bloc and some "neutralist" countries, gave Kasavubu a U.N. seat by a vote of 53 to 24.

HAMMARSKJÖLD was meeting with his 15-nation Congo Advisory Committee immediately after his talk with Kasavubu and informed sources said the Afro-Asian good offices group might be cleared to leave before the end of the week.

A Kasavubu representative was invited to sit in the Advisory Committee, which also met for more than two hours after the Assembly action last night. At that time, according to informed sources, the committee received an "optimistic" letter from Kasavubu which all but reversed his earlier letters opposing any conciliation effort.

The Afro-Asian Conciliation Commission is a kind of subcommittee of the Congo Advisory group, whose 18 members all have contributed troops to the U. N. Congo operation.

IT WAS BELIEVED it would go to Leopoldville with 13 members: Guinea and Mali, who were included, decided to boycott its work in protest over the recognition of Kasavubu, which they termed "premature."

Major General Medaris Will Speak at Assembly

Major General John B. Medaris will be the forum speaker at the Brigham Young University Assembly at 10 a.m. in the Smith House.

General Medaris, now retired, is his military career back twice as a Marine in France during World War I. He won a mission as lieutenant in the war army and served five years active duty.

GEN. JOHN MEDARIS

THE OHIO native studied mechanical engineering at Ohio State University and after resigning from the Service he engaged in merchandising and management activities for 10 years in South America and in this country.

He returned to active duty in 1939. Credited with planning and executing the ordnance phase of the invasion of Normandy and the subsequent campaigns in Europe, he directed 23,000 ordnance troops.

RECENTLY General Medaris has served as chief of the first U. S. Army mission to Argentina for three years and in 1955 was selected to direct the army's long-range missile program.

He is a Fellow of the American Rocket Society, the American Ordnance Association and a senior member of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

HONORARY DEGREES have been awarded him from the University of Alabama, Rollins College, the University of Chattanooga, Pennsylvania Military College and New Mexico State University.

Ireland, Canada and Sweden—the non-Afro-Asian members of the Advisory Committee—were pointedly omitted from membership in the Conciliation Commission.

DINNER GUESTS—Feeling a little less like orphans are these Brigham Young University students, who like many will eat Thanksgiving dinner in the homes of Provo families. Students are Ginger Portie (l), Danny Moore and Loretta Johns.

Tiros II Finds Place in Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UPI)—"Tiros II, the world's second weather satellite, was launched into orbit from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 6:13 a.m. EST.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said that teams of meteorologists of the weather bureau and the military weather services are on hand at ground stations near Belmar, N. J., and Oxnard, Calif., where the pictures from Tiros II will be received.

THE TEAMS at the ground stations will prepare maps from the Tiros II pictures showing cloud distribution and pattern over various parts of the earth. If possible, they will try to spot storm centers and frontal systems.

Data considered to be of use to forecasters will be distributed promptly over facsimile circuits connecting the two ground stations with the National Meteorological Center of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Washington.

ice obligations and the benefits from them, such as pay for training classes, promotion and retirement benefits.

The Tentacles, ge Appetite ve Students

by Duane Hlatt
Universe Feature Writer
Several miles of tentacles
pipes and tunnels and a vor-appetite for coal, BYU's plant breathes warmth to
of some 10,000 people.

WARMING OUT from the cen-trating plant located on the side of the campus is a vast network of tunnels and underground pipes which transmit every building on the up-
campus from Wymount Vil-
on the east to Helaman on the west. Approximately a mile of these tunnels
is 5 ft. wide by 8 ft. high,
enough to walk in.

ORDERING TO Ralph Pres-
manager of the operation, 12 full time employees
keeps the heating plant
running.

The plant, which runs night
by all year, uses as much as 10 tons of coal a month
in the winter.

the rest of the BYU campus, the heating plant has been replaced and modernized to the needs of a growing city.

IN THE SUMMER, improvements in the heat distribution were made at a cost of $10. All permanent buildings converted from steam
to high-temperature water heat. This is more economical, and better suited for a system which is widely used, said Prescott.

these improvements, the heating plant is adequate for the future. The plant will be sufficient to heat
the library and administration building, he said.

ILL NOT BE large enough
to handle the proposed Student Center. Last year it received a of $100,000 for operating
of fuel, labor and supplies.

IT IS PROVIDED for the city departments. The auxiliary departments of the university, however, such as the
and food services, photo
press and the health
must pay for their heat consumption bills. Thus the heating plant recovers 20 to percent of its budget, said
